We went to my Grandma's every Spring for a big festive "Dandelion Day" she cooked em up in a stew type dish. There were root vegetables, beef, and dandelion greens...and if I know my Grandma probably some bacon grease ☐☐ she would also have them in a mixed green salad similar to the one you mentioned.

Near-future space science fiction almost by definition has the same shared background of a large human presence in space. Practically no SF stories are about the deep space adventures of an automated space probe, they are mostly about astronauts (with or without the Right Stuff) traveling to other planets and doing things. This got started in the early 1940's, since back in that innocent age ...

Many accidents and natural disasters have done serious environmental damage to the United States. Some of the most famous events include the 1989 Exxon Valdez oil spill, the 2008 coal ash spill in Tennessee, and the Love Canal toxic dump disaster that came to light in the 1970s. But none of these events, despite their tragic consequences, come close to being the worst environmental disaster in ...
