Berlin Diary The Journal Of

Berlin Diary ("The Journal of a Foreign Correspondent 1934-1941") is a first-hand account of the rise of Nazi Germany and its road to war, as witnessed by the American journalist William L. Shirer. Shirer, a radio reporter for CBS, covered Germany for several years until the Nazi press censors made it impossible for him to report objectively to his listeners in the United States; feeling ...

A diary is a record (originally in handwritten format) with discrete entries arranged by date reporting on what has happened over the course of a day or other period. A personal diary may include a person's experiences, thoughts, and/or feelings, excluding comments on current events outside the writer's direct experience.

La bataille aérienne de Berlin est une campagne de bombardement anglo-américaine sur Berlin qui se déroula de novembre 1943 à mars 1944 pendant la Seconde Guerre mondiale.. La campagne ne se limita cependant pas à Berlin, d'autres villes allemandes furent attaquées afin d'éviter une trop forte concentration des défenses sur Berlin, sachant que le Bomber Command britannique avait d ...

This text was written as a presentation for several research seminars in Southampton and Oxford. I have decided to leave its partly improvised and colloquial character and not force it into what German colleagues call the "wissenschaftliche Korsett" – but I do hope it can still live up to the usual academic standards.
