Mathematical notation. Euler introduced much of the mathematical notation in use today, such as the notation  $f(x)$  to describe a function and the modern notation for the trigonometric functions. He was the first to use the letter  $e$  for the base of the natural logarithm, now also known as Euler's number. The use of the Greek letter to denote the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter ...

(2003-07-26) 0 Zero is a number like any other, only more so... Zero is probably the most misunderstood number. Even the imaginary number  $i$  is probably better understood, (because it's usually introduced only to comparatively sophisticated audiences). It took humanity thousands of years to realize what a great mathematical simplification it was to have an ordinary number used to indicate ...
