Christianity regards the Bible, a collection of canonical books in two parts (the Old Testament and the New Testament), as authoritative. It is believed by Christians to have been written by human authors under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, and therefore for many it is held to be the inerrant Word of God. Protestant Christians believe that the Bible contains all revealed truth necessary ...

Think about the essentials of life such as air, water, and food. One could say that often these divine gifts of creation are taken for granted as they are abused by our society in countless ways, especially in ways detrimental to low income, communities of color. Churches can do a lot to challenge this status quo that disconnects us from God, our neighbors, and our surrounding world.
